

I need to know my legal rights concerning "PIC" numbers in possession of my current carrier. Affinity Network has my "PIC" numbers frozen and refuses to release these numbers to my new carrier, because they state I have to send them a 30-day cancellation notice. Therefore, my new carrier cannot set-up my new service until they have the "PIC" numbers. Do I have a legal right to my "PIC" numbers and shouldn't Affinity have to release them upon my request?
